Confirm with your college website or Registrar. Follow your college’s process for transferring credit. Visit the TC3 CollegeNow website (www.tompkinscortland.edu/collegenow) for transfer tips and to request your official transcript. Transferability depends on college policies, grades earned, and how the course fits within your intended major. If credit is denied, you may be able to petition with your college. Barnard, Colgate, Fordham, Georgetown, Hamilton, Hobart &amp; William Smith, MIT, Northwestern, RPI, Union, U. Rochester, Vassar, as well as Cornell and other Ivies, do not transfer in concurrent enrollment credit, though some may accept credit for classes not required for HS graduation, or that were taken online or on campus. *Based on alumni surveys and feedback from the colleges. Colleges are in NY unless otherwise indicated. |
